

Ombudsman junks graft raps vs Villars

By Anne C. Torres Jr.

The country's top watchdog has just rejected the graft charges against Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, but then dropped prosecution against his alleged aide and his wife, leaving the Sen. free to run his office.

In an initial case report, the National Whistleblowing Center opposed the looking of the Senate against its introduction of a bill that would allow the Senate to investigate its members.

Enrile and Villars are under fire for the Senate's role in the impeachment of President Joseph Estrada. The Senate is the only body in the country that can impeach a president, and it is the only body that can impeach a senator.

The case was referred to the Senate's Office of the Ombudsman, which is the body that investigates and prosecutes graft cases. The Ombudsman's Office is the body that investigates and prosecutes graft cases.

'Shattered' Russia mourns blasts victims

By The Associated Press
 MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's capital was in mourning Friday as the country mourned the victims of a series of bombings in the city of Volgograd, which was hit by a series of explosions on Thursday.

The explosions, which occurred in the city's central business district, killed at least 10 people and injured more than 100 others.

The explosions occurred in the city's central business district, which is home to many of the city's major government buildings.

McDonald's is planning to open 2,000 new stores in China by 2014. The company has been expanding its presence in the Asian market for several years. It recently announced a partnership with a local Chinese company to accelerate its growth. The new stores will offer a mix of traditional McDonald's menu items and locally inspired dishes.

Japan jobless rate steady as factory output declines

Japan's jobless rate remained steady despite a decline in factory output. The government reports that the unemployment rate is stable, although there is some concern about the long-term impact of the economic downturn. Factories have reduced production due to weak demand, but the labor market has not yet shown significant signs of distress.

US Fed said to worry about unemployment

The US Federal Reserve is said to be worried about the rising unemployment rate. Officials are monitoring the situation closely and may consider additional measures to stimulate the economy. The Fed's primary goal is to maintain price stability, but it is also concerned about the impact of high unemployment on the overall health of the economy.

SFC checks firms' accounting methods

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) is checking firms' accounting methods. The agency is concerned about potential misstatements in financial reports and is conducting a thorough review. This move is part of the SEC's ongoing efforts to ensure transparency and integrity in the capital markets.

US will sell Citi stock to reap profit from bailout

The US government will sell Citigroup (Citi) stock to reap profit from the bailout. This move is seen as a way to recoup some of the costs of the financial rescue. The sale of the stock will be conducted in a controlled manner to avoid market volatility. It is expected that the government will realize a significant profit from the transaction.

Celebs caught buying fake passes for Timbaland concert

By Entertainment Weekly Staff
 Justin Timberlake's performance at the 2002 MTV Video Music Awards was a highlight of the night. But behind the scenes, a group of celebrities were caught buying fake passes to get into the concert. The list of names includes: Madonna, Britney Spears, and others. The concert was held at the MGM Grand Garden Arena in Las Vegas.

Timbaland's performance was also a highlight. He performed several songs, including "The Way That You Love" and "Popping Out." The concert was a huge success, with Timberlake's album Justified reaching the top of the charts.

The concert was held on September 10, 2002. It was a special event, with Timberlake performing his new album. The concert was a huge success, with Timberlake's album Justified reaching the top of the charts.
